Guidance Notes for staff

In certain circumstances it may be appropriate for an academic faculty to make the decision to close a higher education course.

Before the decision to close a course is taken, there should be a review of management information by the Assistant Principal Higher Education and the Head of Faculty to ensure that this is an appropriate course of action.

The review of management information may include data such as admissions reports to assess demand, staffing information, strategic reviews of portfolio provision, and changes to organisational structures.

At all times, consideration of closure of a higher education course must be managed with due regard to the students/applicants affected, to assess the possible impact on academic standards and the quality of learning opportunities, particularly regarding specific groups of students.

If the decision to close a course is made, the Faculty concerned must follow the Flowchart on page two of this document, which makes explicit reference to the College's Student Protection Plan (SPP) and the Office for Students regulations when non-continuation occurs (see <https://www.nottinghamcollege.ac.uk/study/university-centre/welcome-to-the-university-centre-at-nottingham-college/key-information-and-supporting-documents> for SPP)

Circumstances may arise in which the decision to close a course is beyond the College's control. In this case, the Flowchart should be followed in order to manage the situation to protect the academic interests of students as far as possible and uphold regulatory expectations and duties as a provider of higher education.

The College's Higher Education Terms and Conditions and Student Protection Plan highlight course closure to students.

Higher Education Programme Closure Process Flowchart

Assistant Principal HE and Head of Faculty review of management information including:

- ✓ Market demand
- ✓ Staffing
- ✓ Strategic Portfolio

Decision to close a course (non –continuation)

Consider and discuss how the implications with affected students at the earliest opportunity and assess the possible impact on academic standards and the quality of learning opportunities, particularly regarding specific groups of students, considering the diversity of protected characteristics and prior educational experience. Consult with validating HEI/awarding body.

Check with HE admissions if there are any new applicants for the programme.

YES

Admissions to contact applicants as soon as possible and ensure that applicants are fully supported to find another suitable course, if possible, otherwise satisfying Student Protection Plan (SPP) measures.

NO

Check with MIS and course team if there are any intercalated students on the programme affected. Ensure all marketing materials including the College and UCAS websites are updated accordingly.

Ensure the quality of the learning experience is safeguarded during the period in which the programme is being withdrawn, especially where current students continue studying to complete the programme although there are no new entrants. (For enrolled students who are unable to continue see SPP for details.)

Produce an action plan to address considerations above where appropriate
